

Greatest Gift, Inc. OPO Sample Advisor E-mail

The following e-mail message may be used as a template when contacting advisors as liaisons for potential student leaders.

Dear fellow educator:

My name is [your name] and I am [your position] at [your OPO]. I am writing to you today in hopes that you will help me reach out to your students with an exciting leadership opportunity. Greatest Gift, Inc. is a 501(c)3 non-profit organization that has created a nationwide campaign to raise organ and tissue donation awareness on college campuses. This organization is now seeking student leaders to head up local campus chapters. If you would be so kind to forward the message below to your students it would be greatly appreciated.

Thank you,

Greatest Gift, Inc. is currently seeking motivated college students to head up a nationwide organ and tissue donation education campaign. After 3 years of medical student recruitment we are now making the jump to undergraduate campuses. We currently have 10 student organizations on medical school campuses in 8 different states and are excited to invite undergraduate students to help us in our mission. Greatest Gift, Inc.'s model is designed to educate students and communities about the processes, myths and facts about donation and transplant, all while helping you develop leadership skills for your future endeavors. We are an organization created by students, designed with a busy student's schedule in mind. We will provide interested students with all of the necessary tools to set up and run their own organization on their campus (including training, a sample/template constitution, budgeting help, event ideas, artwork, t-shirt ideas, your own web page and more).

For more information visit our newly revamped website at www.GreatestGiftInc.org and e-mail your local OPO contact, [your name] at [your e-mail address].

Thank you your support,
